

AN SBU THEATER GRAD TALKS ABOUT HER EXPERIENCE

2014 grad Tori Lanzillo recently Zoomed with one of our Intro to Theater classes and this is what she said...

" . It was small but that's exactly what I wanted. I think that you get a lot of one-on-one attention; you get a lot more opportunities being a part of the theater scene there. And I loved that. It gave me the chance to be able to actually do a lot of acting during undergrad and learn a lot and become very confident about being an actor. You know, it of being an actor I feel like Bonaventure theater really and get my sea legs being on a stage and to be able to work with other people and . Because at St Bonaventure Theater you're not just acting, you're not just stage-managing---you're doing everything. You're getting an
